Losing Control Of An Auto Proves Fatal To Driver Early Today

DRIVER OF TOURING CAR MEETS DEATH

Robert Billingsley, Aged 47, of Fredericktown, a River Foreman, Fatally Injured When He Crashed Into a Telephone Pole Today

OCCURS AT BENTLEYVILLE

Making the Second Curve While Driving Up Peterman's Hill—Loses Control of Machine — Post Mortem Reveals Cause of Death, Internal Hemorrhages

Losing control of his Reo Six touring car while driving up Peterman's hill, near Bentleyville, at 12:30 o'clock this morning, Robert Billingsley of Fredericktown, aged 47 years, brother of Mrs. William E. Hazlett of 131 McKean avenue, this place, was fatally injured when the car crashed into a telephone pole and the steering wheel caused internal injuries to the man, who died a short time afterwards.

Mr. Billingsley, who is employed as river foreman for the Clyde Coal company of Fredericktown, and well-known throughout the valley, was returning to his home, after visiting with his mother, Mrs. Will Billingsley of Glenwood, who is convalescing from body bruises received in an automobile accident Saturday in Pittsburgh. He was accompanied as far as Clairton by his brother, Walter, who had also been visiting his mother. He was making the second curve near the bottom of the long ascent, and was picking up speed to make the hill in high gear, when he lost control and plunged into a telephone pole on the side of the highway. The machine was not badly damaged, but the man collided with the steering wheel with such force as to cause internal injuries.

Residents of the hill were soon at the scene of the accident, and Dr. Hook was called. Dr. Hook, after examining the man, returned to Bentleyville to call for the McDonough ambulance at Beallsville, and a few minutes after he reached the side of the injured man, the second time, accompanied by Chief of Police Lake, Billingsley died.

The body was taken to the undertaking establishment of J. V. McDonough of Beallsville, and there prepared for burial. A post mortem was held. Internal hemorrhage is said to be the cause of death.

The deceased is survived by his widow, Mrs. Margaret Billingsley, and daughter Olivette, who is employed in the Fredericktown bank, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Billingsley of Glenwood, one brother, Walter Billingsley of Clairton, and three sisters, Mrs. William Hazlett of this place, Mrs. Charles Davis of Monongahela, and Mrs. F. B. Flickner of Point Marion.

Funeral services will probably be held Saturday, with interment in the Monongahela cemetery.

DIVINE GIVES HIS FAREWELL SERMON SUNDAY

Rev. H. H. Wilson, who preached his farewell sermon Sunday evening to a crowd that taxed the capacity of the First Baptist church, the subject of which was "The Lost Christ," left Monday night with his wife and family for McKeesport, where they remained until yesterday with friends, leaving that place for their new home and parish at East Brady, Pa.

Although it is with regret that Rev. Wilson's many friends and members of his congregation see him depart, they are sincere in their wishes for success and happiness to him in the new field.

Cratty Funeral To Be Held On Friday

Funeral services for Constable William A. O. Cratty, aged 41, who died Monday night at 11:50 in the Charleroi-Monessen hospital, as a result of bullet wounds inflicted in his thighs [illegible] two colored thugs on the Charleroi-Monessen bridge, when he attempted to effect their arrest, will be held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock from his late home in 524 enter avenue, North Charleroi, in charge of Rev. Frank Montgomery, pastor of the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church. Interment will follow in the Monongahela cemetery.

Mr. Cratty is a life-long resident of the Monongahela valley, having been born in the city of Monongahela, the son of Mrs. Anna Cratty and the late John Jackson Cratty, April 23, 1883. When but a young man he moved to Charleroi with his parents and was first employed as a glass worker in the Macbeth-Evans Glass company, later being employed as ferryman on the Monongahela river before the erection of the Charleroi-Monessen bridge. For a period of 14 years he was employed as electrician in the Pittsburgh Steel mill, Monessen, and for the past four years has conducted a general merchandise store at the bridge. As a Republican he was elected six years ago to serve the borough in the official capacity of constable, after serving a year on the police force of that place. Mr. Cratty also served as health officer of the borough for several years. He was a life-long member of the Baptist church of Monongahela, and also a member of the Protected Home Circle.

In the year 1901 he was united in marriage with Miss Maude Geho, of North Charleroi, and to this union nine children were born, all of whom survive: Mrs. Pete Lensky, of Detroit, Laverna, Blanche, Austin, John, Robert, Glenn, Charles and Pearl. Besides his wife, he leaves his mother, two brothers, Thomas Cratty of Pittsburgh, and Andrew Cratty of North Charleroi, and three sisters, Mrs. Jessie Wilson, of North Charleroi, Mrs. Mary Behanna, Jr., of Monongahela, and Mrs. Anna Isenberg, of Cleveland.

ELEVEN PERSONS IN AN AUTO MISHAP

Close Call to Serious Accident When Two Machines Crash Together On Monongahela Pike, Near J. [illegible]

NO ONE IS INJURED

Accident Occurs Last Night About 8:30 O'Clock — Both Machines Considerably Damaged — Highway Patrolman Summoned to Scene

Marvelously 11 persons, five of them children, escaped injury when two automobiles crashed together on the Monongahela pike, near the J. Willis Martin farm, last night about 8:30 o'clock. The machines were considerably damaged.

Thomas Catlin, a colored man, of Washington, got his car off the concrete highway into a ditch. To back out it was necessary for him to put on almost full power of the engine of his Studebaker Six.

When the wheels of the machine got on the concrete, the car was propelled across the road at a rapid rate of speed and crashed into a Chandler Sedan, driven by Mrs. Florence Yohe of Monongahela, wife of C. J. Yohe, of the firm of Bebout & Yohe. Catlin's automobile overturned in the center of the road.

In the Yohe car were Mrs. Yohe and her five children and Glen Williams, all of Monongahela. Riding with Catlin were Clarence Wood and William Patmon of Canonsburg.

Both automobiles were so badly damaged that they could not be operated. Highway Patrolman Rupert was summoned to the scene and took charge, directing traffic while machines were being removed.

Health Of Community Needs Fire Proof And Modern Hospital Here

That a new and modern hospital thoroughly fire proof and up-to-date in its room construction is conspicuously an important need if not the greatest present need of this community is generally admitted by everyone conversant with the present hospital building, its equipment and work, says a statement issued today from the headquarters of the campaign to secure a hospital building fund.

Chairman K. W. Daly sent out notices today calling a meeting of the campaign executive committee at the Elks Club, Thursday noon. This meeting is expected to take up the general hospital situation and analyze it with the viewpoint of determining a policy to be followed in organizing plans and details for the money raising campaign that is shortly to follow. It is expected that this committee will meet daily after Thursday until this work is completed.

As soon as the executive committee gets its work under way there will start the work of building the large sales organization which will receive contributions from citizens throughout the community. It is planned to make it possible for everybody in the community to subscribe even to the humblest resident.

The State Department of Health has repeatedly declared that the Charleroi-Monessen hospital is unsafe because of its being a frame building. In the case of fire there is nothing that could save the structure if the conflagration should gain reasonable headway. The building, the state de-

DUVALL FUNERAL TO TAKE PLACE THURSDAY

Funeral services for Loman Duvall, aged 67, a livelong resident of Washington county, and wellknown throughout this section, who died yesterday morning at 3 o'clock at his late home on the Speers-Twilight road, following an extended illness due to a complication of diseases, will take place Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at his late home in charge of the Rev. Homer Clark, pastor of the Speers Methodist Episcopal church. Interment will be in the Beallsville cemetery.

POLICE HAVE BUSY MORNING

The Charleroi police, inclusive of Chief Murphy, have had a busy day.

This morning at 2:45 o'clock, Patrolman Rome Ross arrested at Tenth street and McKean avenue, one Henry Taylor, 32 years old, colored, and he is being held pending a hearing on the charge of being a suspicious person. On the person of Taylor was found a revolver as "long as the moral law," the weapon being loaded to the muzzle with cartridges of nearly corresponding length. Taylor also had his pockets full of bullets—in fact was a sort of itinerant arsenal. He got off a freight train at the water tank.

Chief Murphy effected the arrest in McKean avenue extension of "Brownie" Gilmore, C. J. Keifer, and Harvey Decker, and they will all be arraigned for a hearing this evening at 7 o'clock before Burgess J. Bryant Tussing, the preferred charge individually and collectively being "drunk and disorderly."

Chief Murphy said that he had received instructions to arrest "Bugs" Wilson and an Allenport woman on charges of being drunk and disorderly. Wilson lives in Shovel Row, this place.

Workman Receives 25,000 Volts While Repairing Wires At Sub-Station

In an unavoidable accident yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock, William Askins, aged 22, son of Mrs. Kate Askins of Roscoe, an employe at the new million dollar sub-station of the West Penn Power company, received a high voltage of 25,000 volts while repairing some wires at the station. He was knocked to the ground unconscious and Dr. H. J. Repman was summoned, who ordered the young man taken to the Charleroi-Monessen hospital, where he was conveyed in the borough ambulance. Reports from the hospital this morning state that he is slightly improved, after spending a very restless night.

Askins was repairing the wires, and was aware of the fact that he was working around the "hot" one, but in suddenly turning, the rod in his hand came in contact with the live wire and the full voltage entered his body through his hands and passed out through his feet. Both his hands and feet were badly burned.

DRY DAY; WILL BE NO RAIN

If the old legend holds good there will be no 40-day rain spell. Yesterday was St. Swithin's and it did not rain, for a change. If it had rained, so the tradition goes, rain would have fallen for 40 consecutive days following July 15. While the legend dates back to 962, it still has some believers today and quite a large number who view the day with casual interest.

According to the legend Swithin a bishop, of Winchester, England, was canonized and became St. Swithin, whereupon his remains were to be disinterred and rebuild in the Church of Winchester. The date was fixed for July 15 and it rained that day and continued to rain for 40 days.

Gen. Butler, director of public safety, following the drinking orgy, issued orders to the police to clean up all places suspected of dispensing the poison liquor.

DRAGNET MAKES ESCAPE FOR THUGS A HARD MATTER

Chief of Police James A. Murphy said this morning that the dragnet which he caused to be spread Monday night, made the escape of the colored murderer's practically impossible. This dragnet consisted of police and the citizenry of North Charleroi and Charleroi; and aid was further furnished by the searchlight from the plant of the Pittsburgh Steel company, and the steamboats at the Lock at that time.

Mr. Murphy refutes the published report that state police have been or are on guard at the hospital. He said that the life of the colored accused was saved through virtue of the over[illegible] of Dr. A. S. Sleaman, two other medical practitioners, and himself.

WORKMAN GETS HEAVY VOLTAGE

Clarence Burke, a machinist, employed in the Pittsburgh Steel Company plant in Monessen, was taken to the Memorial hospital yesterday at 1:30 o'clock suffering from the effects of an electrical shock.

Burke was at work on an electric machine, when he came in contact with a live wire carrying a heavy voltage. Pinned to the wire, Burke was unconscious when a fellow workman discovered his plight. Throwing off a switch removed the current. The injured man was taken to the first aid station and given treatment, and later was taken to the hospital. His condition is said to be serious.

NEGROES ARE STILL ALIVE; ONE MAY DIE

Information from the Charleroi-Monessen hospital this forenoon was to the [illegible] that Policeman [illegible] the negro charged with being connected with the shooting affair in which Constable W. A. O. Cratty of North Charleroi lost his life is that of being somewhat improved.

Word received from the Memorial hospital at Monongahela was to the effect that the condition of the other participant, William Smith, was about the same as that of yesterday—still very serious, with little or no hope for his recovery.

OLD FEUD SEEMS TO BE RENEWED

The old feud that has persisted for years between County Controller T. J. Underwood and the county commissioners has flared up again, and it now looks as if county employes and contractors working on county roads will be the victims, while the officials fight out their differences. Controller Underwood has refused to approve vouchers for the payment of estimates due road contractors, and announces that he will hold up the payroll of all county employes until the matter is settled.

The trouble this time seems to arise out of the fact that the commissioners have borrowed $110,000 at six per cent interest, which they refuse to pay, although Controller Underwood states that there is at present a balance of $235,911.12 in the county treasury. This borrowed money costs the county $550 a month.

The controller states that the commissioners gave as their reason for not paying this $110,000, that they will later have to borrow an equal or greater amount.

The figures in the controller's office show a balance in both the general and road funds of $235,911.12. [illegible] from the recent sale of road bonds.

Controller Underwood then stated that in spite of this, Washington county is paying six per cent interest on $110,000 borrowed, which the commissioners refuse to pay, either all or any part. This money was borrowed to meet the general and road expenses until taxes commence to come in.

The attitude taken by the controller is to the effect that "while the county commissioners refuse to pay a direct obligation on which the county is paying six per cent interest, why pay $90,000 to road contractors, on which the county receives two per cent daily balance?"

DEMONSTRATION IN CHARLEROI SEPT. 1

FATHER AND SON HURT IN AN AUTO UPSET

A father and son, John H. Cotton, aged 56, and Frank Cotton, 26, of Fulton road, Allegheny county, were injured when caught beneath the wreckage of their Ford touring car which went over the embankment turning the sharp curve at Pricedale, enroute to Belle Vernon, last night at 7 o'clock.

The two had been in Monessen and were driving toward Belle Vernon. In rounding the curve at Pricedale something went wrong with the steering apparatus, and the Ford went crashing over the steep embankment, turning over three times during its drop.

Dr. James Wilson of Belle Vernon happened to drive by at that time, and rescued the injured men from their perilous position under the wrecked machine, and rendered first aid.

The injured father and son were taken to the Presbyterian hospital, Pittsburgh, in the Melenyzer ambulance, where it was found that the father suffers from a fractured right leg, and the son from bodily bruises.

The Monongahela Valley Central Trades Council of Charleroi in regular session Monday evening, decided to stage a Labor Day demonstration in Charleroi on the first of September.

A large committee was appointed by Chairman Frantz to arrange all of the details in connection with the demonstration.

The committee is making an effort to have Robert M. LaFollette, Progressive candidate for president, to speak here on that day; also other notable speakers will be present on the above date.

Details will be made known later.

PALACE CROWDS SAY THEATRE HAS "FINE SHOW"

A record-breaking crowd saw Boots Walton's Bubbleland Musical Comedy company at the Palace theatre last night, and were a unit in pronouncing this attraction the best that has played at this popular theatre.

The bill as presented last night required over an hour, it being crowded full of specialties. It was nothing short of a miniature minstrel, which was to say the least, on a par with some "one night" minstrels now on the road. There are six blackface comedians, with ten other persons supporting.

The performance opens in regular minstrel style with two four end men who do a lot of specialties and pull jokes most of them new to the audience. A series of specialties then occupy the program, these followed by an unusually clever comedy blackface skit entitled "Mammie's Reception." There is special scenery for each setting and special electrical effects, especially in the last act. The scene is laid on the shore of a southern river. The water is quietly rippling and the clouds are sailing along. A lighthouse gives the scene an additional realistic touch and with the big moon shining through the sailing clouds a realistic and typical southern scene is presented.

No show this season can be classed with Walton's in point of entertainment. It is not an attempt on his part to present a minstrel without the material, for he has engaged good talent for the production and it is well worth seeing for the theatregoer.

NEWS FROM RIO DE JANEIRO IS CENSORED

Buenos Aires, July 16.—A complete censorship appears to have been clamped down on news from Rio de Janeiro and Santos on the rebellion in the state of Sao Paulo, Brazil.

The United Press has received no dispatches from its staff correspondents in either of these cities for more than 12 hours and is informed that further messages will not be sent from Santos, where the military authorities are in complete control, following the declaration of martial law.

Unconfirmed reports here state that several foreign correspondents in Brazil have been asked to refrain from further dispatches on the situation unless specifically authorized by the government.

Montevideo dispatches state that press messages from South Brazilian points have been stopped.

It is assumed, however, the correspondents may be allowed to file the regular official communiques which are issued from time to time in Rio de Janeiro, by the federal government.

COMMUNITY HEALTH NEEDS HOSPITAL HERE

partment points out, is not only a frame structure, but it is a residence that was turned into a hospital when the building was never suitable for adaptation to hospital purposes.

That the present hospital nursing staff is seriously handicapped in their work by inadequate facilities, by limited quarters and by many other handicaps which would be removed with the erection of a modern hospital of much larger capacity than the present one.

The State Department of Health has frequently approved the idea that there should be in this valley a good fireproof hospital large enough to care for the surrounding community.

Several years ago when there was an agitation to finance a hospital here several meetings were held in adjoining towns in which the general plan, as is now being developed, was heartily approved. For example, Doctor Griffith of Monessen is quoted as saying: "This valley needs a hospital, but it should be a big hospital to serve all the needs of the and equipped for efficiency. That's very necessary. It is a fact," he emphasized, "that it is almost impossible for a small hospital to exist. It would take the combined medical profession of all the communities to provide an efficient staff. The ability is [illegible] and would undoubtedly stand by a good modern hospital."

Chairman Daly is of the opinion that it is not a question of what it will cost to business man and citizen of this community to give enough money to construct a new hospital building, but it is rather a question of what it will cost them if they do not.

There is no money available from state appropriation for hospital construction purposes but there is money available to help maintain worthy hospitals where they are doing good work.

AUTOISTS IN ACCIDENT ARE SLIGHTLY INJURED

The third automobile accident occurred in the valley last night, which however, proved less serious than the other two.

Samuel McGregor, Frank Fulton and Harry Clark, Monongahela residents and members of Company A, who had been conferring with members of Company D at Monessen relative to the encampment to be held at Mt. Gretna in the fall, were returning to their homes in a Ford roadster along the Webster-Monessen road, when a rear tire blew out and they crashed into the side of the hill. Fulton was badly lacerated about the hands, while Clark was cut about the head: but McGregor, who was driving, fortunatel escaped without injury. The three men were taken to the office of Dr. Day in Donora, and given medical attention.

W. A. O. CRATTY.

Immolating his life on the shrine of public duty, as a minion of the law who was following in the tenets and precepts of his oath, the murder of Constable William A. O. Cratty at the hands of outlaws Monday night has occasioned excitement and comment probably without parallel in the history of criminology as appertains to this community.

Shot down just in the midday of manhood efforts had arrived, and the coveted peak of prosperity was so near or could be foreseen, the untimely passing of an official and citizen of the efficiency and popularity of William A. O. Cratty is mourned and deplored. The best emblem to his memory is the record of a life fraught with good, a yielding to the appeal of the best in humane impulses, performing his whole duty in the official relations to which he had been elected by an appreciative electorate, and whose duties he so well subserved. No danger was too great, no obstacle too large for him to attempt to overcome where his position was involved, and the interests of the people were at stake.

In his business career, his success was marked; it was one of integrity. Carrying the best of everything in groceries and provisions, he learned by experience to know just what his trade demanded, and the best was theirs. In his domestic life, he was the kind husband and father, ever considerate of his estimable wife and his talented and esteemed children. They will miss his counsel and kindly ministrations, his love, but they will recall in the days to come the heritage of a noble life spent in their behalf.

Mr. Cratty could not have so well subserved the duties of his office without being in the highest degree a well-wishing community man. He looked with pride on the advancement of North Charleroi and this community, and did what he could to improve every status which would mean their upbuilding.

That he should have been cut down just in the vigor of his manhood, causes us to reflect on some remedy to protect our officials against worthless ruffians who live by ways that are dark and tricks that are vain. Just at this time in particular, this community, in common with others, has a number of worthless characters, both white and colored, who should be told to move on, and keep moving. The labor situation is such in this community that an "idle brain truly does make a devil's workshop," although some of the characters that hang around the river towns of this valley are ne'er-do-wells in prosperity or adversity. Communities that have dissolute characters, men who make their living by questionable methods, should be told to move on and ever on. No man of a known questionable character should be harbored in any borough or city, and they should be banished forthwith in the best interests of society. The higher the status of morality of any place the less liable are to occur such cold-blooded murders as that of Constable Cratty.

How little after all do we appreciate the services of an officer of the law. He is called to account for his sins of omission and commission, and yet his life is in constant jeopardy at the hands of some degenerate. He goeth forth in the bright sunlight of the morning, enjoying the vigor and health of his manhood, and before night he may be returned to his family and friends. It is for us then to assist him in every way in the proper moral conducting of the affairs of the community, and aid him and the authorities to purge the borough or city where we live of all undesirables.

Quite Satisfactory

There is an elderly artist in Washington who appreciates fine millinery, the Kansas City Star reports. His young married daughter, however, was practicing domestic economy when a hat, a beautiful affair, arrived for little Marie from her devoted grandparent, whose eye had surrendered [illegible] ment he saw it in a department store.

"That hat is too extravagant for this family," remarked the young mother. "I'll take it back and see what I can do."

A few days later the grandfather called to see the baby in the new hat.

"Do let me see how she looks in it," he said. "And how did you like it?"

"Very much, father, thank you. They gave me two hats, two dresses, a sweater and 49 cents in change for it."

Hundred Miles an Hour Birds Fly Day without Stop

Flying at a rate of a hundred miles an hour, some birds can continue on the wing for a day without stopping. The vulture, it is said, can travel great distances at this speed and often stays in the air for a full day of flight. Many wild ducks and similar fowl attain almost as great speeds when migrating, while, among smaller birds, the swallow has been known to reach ninety miles an hour and to keep up that record for long stretches.

The eagle, despite its strength and big wings, seldom flies as fast as a mile a minute. The crow, though seeming to be a slow mover in flight, makes about twenty-five miles an hour, and the carrier pigeon does an average of sixty miles in the same time. The tiny sparrow can travel at twenty miles an hour but only for very short distances. The wild goose does one hundred for hours without appearing to slacken its pace during the entire time it is flying.

Ornamental Handles for Auto Doors

A number of the lower-priced automobiles have the inside handles of door catches made in a very rough style. The crude appearance of these handles can be improved considerably by dressing them down on an emery wheel or grindstone so that the dust caps used on automobile-valve stems will fit over them snugly.

Ten Dozen Pies from One Pumpkin Are Served at Banquet

One plump pumpkin, grown in a California field, furnished joy for scores of inmates in an old people's home not long ago when it was presented to them and made into 125 pies for a dinner. More than sixty pounds of "meat" were extracted from the pumpkin, which weighed nearly ninety pounds as picked from the vine.

Combination Camp Table and Bench

The combination camp table and bench shown in the drawing is easily made and is more useful than the ordinary table, as the top consists of two boards which can be swung over to form backs for the benches. In their normal position on the table these two boards rest on pins or cleats fastened to the inside of the upper crosspieces; they pivot at both ends on long bolts passing through the brace, crosspiece and into the board. Both sides of the boards should be smooth, as one side is used as [illegible] top.

Removing Stuck Bullets

A lead bullet stuck in a rifle barrel can be easily removed in the following way: Get a piece of wire of the kind and size used for barrel hoops and long enough to reach the bullet from the chamber end of the barrel. Flatten one end of the wire by hammering it out cold, forming it to a blunt point like a flat drill, and file the edges sharp, rounding off the corners to fit the bore. If a breast drill is handy the wire is tightened in the chuck and the bullet drilled out. If a carpenter's brace is used it is necessary first to flatten the end of the wire to fit the chuck snugly. As lead is very soft it is a matter of only a few moments to drill out the bullet. The rifle should be thoroughly cleaned and oiled before firing a loaded cartridge.

Household Expenses Easily Reduced Through Proper Care of Foodstuffs

There is a proper and an improper way of placing food in the refrigerator. And the consequences are distinctly different, according to the Household Refrigeration Bureau of the National Association of Ice Industries.

In a bulletin on the subject the bureau shatters the old belief that the most desirable place in the refrigerator is in the ice chamber, and warns against placing food in that compartment because of interference with the free circulation of air.

"The coldest place in an overhead icer type," says the bureau, "is the middle of the top shelf where the cold air drops down from the ice chamber. The warmest place is on the sides of the lower shelves where warm air travels back to the ice chamber. In the side-icer type of refrigerator the coldest place is the compartment directly under the ice chamber."

Delicate foods which spoil quickly and those that absorb odors, such as milk, butter, meat broths, cereals and custards, should be placed directly under the ice chamber, the bureau says. Uncooked meat should have the next coldest place, the bottom shelf. Cooked meat drys out quickly and should be kept in snug containers in this compartment. Fish should be placed in a tightly covered vessel. Left-overs containing cream sauces or custards, or delicate vegetables should have the coldest location, while others should go into the meat compartment. Berries, which are subject to white mold, should go on the shelf above the meat compartment.

"The refrigerator is the food warehouse of the family," says the bureau, "and it deserves the utmost care."

"There are some ungodly young men over in that corner having fun with the girls," announced the preacher solemnly as he paused in the middle of his sermon and pointed accusingly in the direction of the graceless youths.

"When they get done," he continued ponderously, "perhaps they will give me a chance."

And he could not understand why the congregation smiled.

Not Too Timid

"I hear your son Tom has brought home a timid little bride."

"Well, she isn't so awfully backward, at that. She started in right away to improve mother's game of bridge and show the girls how to dress."—Boston Transcript.

One-Shot Lubrication System

WHEN you come in to see the 1925 Cleveland Six—you are going to find something real to look at!

A totally new car, of course. Longer, stronger, handsomer, and more powerful—a beauty in every sense of the word!

But that isn't all. You are going to see the biggest convenience feature ever offered the motorist—a patented lubrication system that does away with the greasy, grimy task of oiling and greasing the car by hand!

Takes 2 Seconds

You will never know what convenience means until you see the One-Shot Lubrication System. Think of driving a car on which you never use a grease gun or oil can—on which squeaks and rattles and prematurely worn parts are literally unknown.

A plunger projects through the floor board. When you step on it, 23 vital parts of the car are lubricated simultaneously.

No wonder the 1925 Cleveland Six is taking the nation by storm! It's the easiest car in the world to take care of—and, in addition, it offers qualities of performance, beauty, stamina and economy never before available in any car of moderate price!

Mileage Motor

This truly marvelous six is powered by a new and larger motor. Get behind the wheel and get a thrill.

You would never believe that a motor so smooth and silent could be so powerful. Speed? More than you ever want to use! Acceleration? From 5 to 25 m. p. h. in less than 7 seconds! Hills? No car built will ever pass you!

Balloon Tires

Comfort, too! The comfort that only genuine, supersize balloon tires can provide. All models come equipped with them at no extra cost. And if you prefer

Walter P. Chrysler Says-

The sweeping success of the good Maxwell is squarely due to the fact that it affords the most advanced engineering, at a price within reach of every one who can afford a car at all.

As in the Chrysler Six, scientific engineering has now produced such revolutionary results that unless a man at least tests them himself, he cannot be sure of securing the highest motoring satisfaction.

Maxwell's most recent development has to do with notable improvement in every phase of riding, driving and performance, economy and long life, and the reduction of vibration to a degree never before thought possible in a four.

Religious Art Gems

While it is not literally true that all of the greatest paintings are of religious subjects, since there are many famous paintings that are not religious, of the following list of so-called twelve greatest paintings, ten are of subjects connected with religion: "The Last Supper," Leonardo da Vinci; "The Last Judgment," Michelangelo; "Descent from the Cross," Daniels da Volterra; "Sistine Madonna," Raphael; "Assumption of the Blessed Virgin," Titian; "Holy Night," Correggio; "Communion of St. Jerome," Domenchino; "Aurora Preceding Chariot of the Sun," Guido Reni; "Immaculate Conception," Murillo; "Descent from the Cross" Rubens; 'The Transhguration," Raphael, "Sortie of the Civic Guard."

Druggist's Witticism

The corner druggist was an easy-going chap and some of his friends used to criticize the way the store looked One day he arranged a display of fibrous products in his front window, the exhibit comprising cinchona, cinnamon, elm, sassafras, wild cherry and so on. Then a dog climbed into the window and went to sleep

"Doc,' declared a friend, 'that dog is very much out of place in the window"

'Oh, I don't know' responded the druggist, easily. "It's an assortment of barks."

A Find

A great commercial magnate was driven into a small candy store during a storm and spent half an hour watching the ancient proprietor attend upon the vagaries of a child who was thinking of spending a cent.

The infinite patience of the old man impressed him Finally the cent was spent and the youngster went

Tradition Helps Nation

In the great events menacing the existence of a people, the will of the dead powerfully sustains the will of the living Nations which have not enough of the dead to defend them, make a feeble resistance. This was the case with Russia toward the end of the great war—G. Le Bon in Les Incertitudes de l'Heure Presente.

Meeting With Joy

Don't wait for Joy to knock at the door, but rise up and meet him halfway on the road of Life, then introduce him to all the travelers you meet and celebrate him on the hills and in the valleys that have been dreaming of him all the year long, and you'll hear bells and the dreams of a lifetime will come true.—Atlanta Constitution.

How to Care for Plants

Plants will grow more quickly if a few drops of ammonia are added once a week to the water with which they are watered. The water should not be colder than the atmosphere of the room, and the leaves of the plants should be kept free from dust by sponging or syringing.

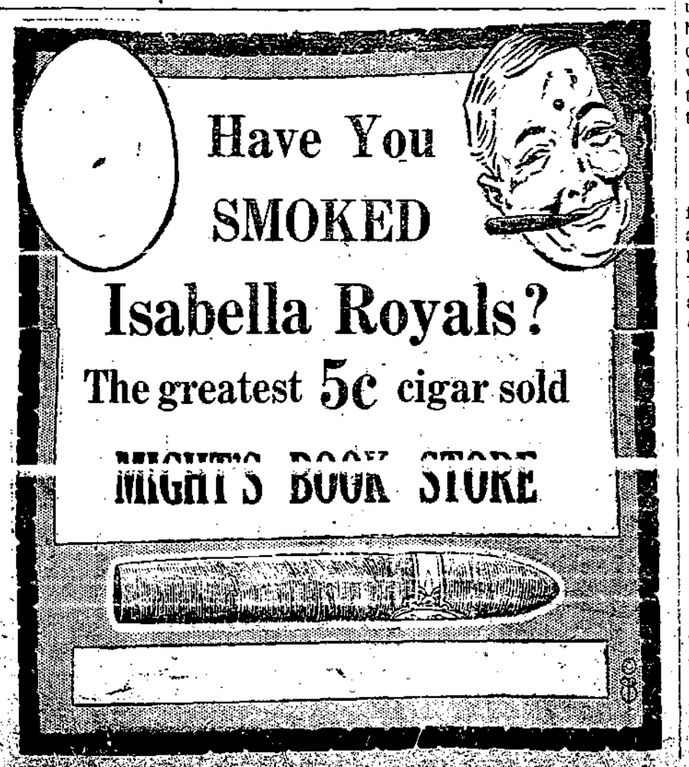
"THE DEERSLAYER"



STILL DISCUSS QUESTION OF REPARATIONS

London, July 16.—The fifteenth important inter-allied conference since the Versailles treaty was signed opened this morning in the spacious offices of Premier Ramsay MacDonald at the foreign office, where statesmen of ten nations gathered about a large horse-shoe table for still another discussion of reparations.

In the 18 months that have elapsed since the last fateful conclave at Paris in January, 1923, the French and Belgians invaded the Ruhr and Germany ceased payments. More recently, Europe took heart over the experts' reports as a basis of settlement, and it was to consider ways and means of giving effect to this report that the present conference assembled.

Standing in the doorway of his offices, MacDonald, labor premier, who will preside at his first inter-allied gathering, welcomed American Ambassador Kellogg and Col. James A. Logan, Jr., Premier Herriot of France, accompanied by General Nollett, Minister Destifuni and De Hava of Italy; Premier Theunis and Minister Hymans of Belgium, Viscount Ishii and M. Hayashi of Japan, besides officials and dignitaries from Portugal, Jugo-Slavia, Greece, and Roumania, and scores of experts and secretaries.

Outside the foreign office, a great crowd of Londoners and many American tourists stood all morning watching the delegates arrive.

The diminutive Japanese statesmen were the first to drive up, and after them, representatives of the various nations came in quick succession.

There was an air of cheerful optimism in the foreign office corridors, and statesmen spoke to one another of the possibilities at this time of settling the difficult reparations tangle. The fact that Ambassador Kellogg and Col. Logan took seats at the horseshoe table in the centre, and were to participate in the deliberations, had much to do with the optimism on the part of Europeans.

Pittsburgh, July 16—One man was crushed to death and two others were injured today at the Eliza furnace of the Jones and Laughlin Steel corporation when a sheet of metal being raised by a crane, slipped and crashed to the ground, pinning a man beneath it. The lead man is Dominick Argenteria, 28.

Braying Birds

Birds that bray were recently discovered in South America on an expedition sent out by the American Museum of Natural History. The birds are a type of penguin. The birds' note sounds like that of a jackass, and the "bass songsters" live in the dense jungles with parrots, humming birds and woodpeckers. The fact that they are of the penguin type is mystifying, as penguins were thought to inhabit mostly the antarctic wastes.

Music Lures Fishes

Additional evidence that fishes are able to hear has been produced by a German scientist. He fed blind fishes to a musical accompaniment. After the sixth day of this treatment the fishes always came up to the surface when the whistle blew. Once learned, the trick was never forgotten, the fishes always appearing on time during a thirty-day test.

The Poet

For poetry was all written before time was, and whenever we are so finely organized that we can penetrate into that region where the air is music, we can hear those primal warblings and attempt to write them down, but we lose, ever and anon, a word or a verse and substitute something of our own, and thus miswrite the poem.—Ralph Waldo Emerson.

Sharks as Food

Trees' Limits

The reason pine trees are so often associated with mountain scenery is because they are among the few trees [illegible] Pine trees can grow at 6,200 feet, firs at 6,700 feet; but you will rarely find an ash above 4,800 feet, or an oak above 3,350 feet.

The camping trip to Chambers Dam to be taken next month, was discussed and additional plans were made. A good time was spent in music and dancing and the evening was concluded by the serving of dainty refreshments by the hostess.

Mrs. Harry Dukstein entertained with a birthday party Monday evening in honor of her husband, at their home in 307 Crest avenue. There were twenty friends of the honored gueht present and the evening was spent in playing games, which were highly enjoyed. A delicious luncheon was served by the hostess at a late hour and the friends departed wishing Mr. Dukstein many happy returns of the day.

UNCLE SAM'S "BIRDS" IN MERRIE ENGLAND

Croyden, England, July 16.—Circling down to the level plains of Croyden, where an immense crowd, held in check by cordons of police, welcomed them, America's world flyers landed their planes at the airdrome here this afternoon, having flown from Paris in less than three hours.

The Stars and Stripes were flown at numerous points about the 150 acre 'drome, and many Americans were among the throngs which cheered Lieut. Smith and his companions.

Officials of the air ministry, including General Brancker, air commander, extended official welcome to the aviators.

Insects Dire Pest

In the Canary islands insects, ants and similar pests are more than an ordinary nuisance, as residents of the northern countries understand such things. In the islands ants are so prevalent in places as to destroy furniture, clothing and foodstuffs. They are an eighth of an inch long. Likewise roaches are very numerous. The result is that the islands offer a great market for insecticides.
